About London School of Commerce Malta

The London School of Commerce Malta (LSC Malta) first opened its doors to students in June 2014. It is licensed as a Higher Education Institution by the National Commission for Further and Higher Education (licence number 2013-FHI-025).

Partnering with the British Universities, the School currently offers the Bachelor of Arts (Hons) in Business Management Studies, as well as the part-time and full-time Master of Business Administration Global programmes.

LSC Malta's programmes are cost-effective and accelerated, allowing students to achieve qualifications more efficiently. Flexible programme entry and exit points throughout the year enable students to proceed to the next level of their education smoothly.

The academic team includes professionals who teach their subjects on a part-time basis while also continuing to work in the commercial world, thus ensuring students are receiving both relevant and modern information.

The campus is conveniently located near the historical city of Valletta, that is considered by UNESCO as a World Heritage site. The campus is within easy reach of the island's main transport hubs, as well as a landscape of historical landmarks, and social areas for the students to enjoy and explore.

Bachelor with Honours in Business

Total Programme Fee: €11,950*

Duration: 3 Years
Intakes: February, April, June, August, October, and November/December (every year)
Requirements:

- Be in possession of two "A" Levels, or an equivalent qualification recognised by MQRIC;
- Should be at least 18 years old;
- Applicants who have been taught and assesses in a language other than English should have an English Language equivalent to IELTS 6.0.

About the Programme

LSCM's undergraduate programmes provide students with a broad knowledge of business operations as well as gaining targeted and transferable skills. The core modules in Level 4 and 5 address the fundamentals of business and management theory, while programme options available through the University partners in Level 6 will enable students to specialise in specific areas of interest, to prepare students for subsequent professional development. In addition, a practical element will enable the development of IT, analytical and communication skills.

LSCM's undergraduate programmes provide a good balance between academic achievement and the acquisition of skills "graduate attributes" required by employers. The programmes, both including a Project module at Level 6, add value that will be recognised by employers in an increasingly competitive environment. This additional value is the benefit upon graduation that enables graduates to fit into a work culture and do a job, to develop ideas, take initiative and responsibility and, ultimately, to help manage organisations, including during periods of change. This internationally recognised programme is delivered at UK Level 6 and MQF/EQF Level 6.

Reasons to study an MBA programme

Building a Career. This is not just any MBA, but one from a reputable UK University, which can greatly enhance career prospects.

Advancement. An MBA provides a passport to promotion opportunities from junior to senior level management in multinational companies.

Employer's Preference. The current trend is for employers to recruit MBA postgraduates rather than undergraduates. Therefore, an MBA qualification will be a significant enhancement to any CV.

Increased Earnings. Research provides evidence that employees with an MBA qualification command higher salaries. This is true whether in Asia, the Middle East or Europe.

Employer's Recognition. Employers recognise the fact that an MBA is an advanced business degree of choice and provides the employee with the necessary skills and understanding of commercial operations to contribute to an internationally successful enterprise.

Critical Thinking. An MBA provides the essential tools for advanced critical thinking, creating a platform for successful interaction between colleagues from different backgrounds and areas of expertise. This improves an overall strategic, tactical and operational understanding of corporate structures.

Dynamism. An MBA qualification provides the necessary transferable skills to cope with the management of change in a work environment. The MBA programme specifications include an emphasis on the development of entrepreneurship, business ethics, innovation and leadership skills.

Self-Actualisation. An MBA qualification is a means of improving confidence and self-attainment, both commercially and financially.

Mobility in the Global Job Market. Having an MBA qualification can ensure greater employee mobility and increase opportunities within the global job market.

Major Project. The Major Project is an intellectually challenging piece of extended management research equipping students with the capabilities and competencies required of today's managers.

Assessment. Each module consists of scheduled classes, guided learning and self-directed learning. Assessment is via a variety of assessment methods including coursework and the submission of a final stage Major Project

Transfer Credits*. All students studying at LSC Malta have the unique opportunity to also study modules at one of the other LSC Group colleges. Please ask an LSC Malta representative for more details.

Frequently Asked Questions by International Students

What currency is used in Malta?
Malta is a member state of the European Union and its national currency is the Euro (Symbol = €).

Are Student Visas difficult to obtain?
No. Malta adopts an extremely welcoming approach to bona fide international students and, provided you satisfy all entry requirements and security clearance, a visa will be issued following application through the established procedure. LSC Malta will be happy to advise and guide you through the visa application process.

Are there any special health precautions required when travelling to Malta?
No. Visitors do not need to take any special health precautions when travelling to Malta. The level of health care is of an extremely high standard. However, it is advisable to have medical insurance cover for the duration of your stay since medical treatment may be expensive and is only offered free of charge to residents of the European Union.

What languages are spoken in Malta?
The local language is Maltese with English being the other national language and spoken by all the population. Italian is also generally well understood and spoken, and a number of Maltese nationals have learnt French, and to a lesser extent, German or Spanish, at school or privately. Therefore most visitors will not have any difficulties in making themselves understood.

Can students work while following LSC Malta programmes?
Yes. Students will be allowed to work in Malta. A variety of work opportunities ranging from jobs in the hospitality industry to professional placements can be found in Malta. Work rights are only guaranteed provided that you retain a high programme attendance and can show good progress with your studies. LSC Malta will be obliged to report students who fail to attend classes or do not make good progress to the Maltese immigration authorities and the right to work may be withdrawn at their absolute discretion in such cases.

About LSC Group of Colleges

The LSC Group of Colleges was established in 1999. As a result of continuous expansion and innovation, it is regarded as one of the world's leading providers of international education. The institution was founded with a commitment to provide flexible and affordable learning opportunities to both domestic and international students worldwide.

Over the years, the LSC Group has established itself as a market leader in terms of its unique programme structures, its alumni community of over 30,000, and its employment opportunities, creating jobs in both the UK and overseas. This ever-growing number of students is a testament to the high levels of student satisfaction and to the outstanding results achieved through the LSC Group's pioneering approach to teaching.

The LSC group currently operates campuses in London, Kuala Lumpur, Malta, Colombo, Dhaka and more recently Amman (Jordan). There are more than 10,000 students worldwide studying towards both taught and research degrees in business. The London campus also holds accreditation as a designated Research Centre to its partner institutions with an active pool of around 150 postgraduate students.

The flagship London School of Commerce in London, was one of the first colleges to receive the Highly Trusted Sponsor (HTS) status from the United Kingdom Border Agency. HTS is only granted to institutions that demonstrate elite levels of quality in education and compliance with immigration legislation.

More recently, LSC Malta was also accredited as a Taught Degree Awarding Institution, meaning all programmes and degrees conferred by the LSC Malta campus are valued and recognised throughout Europe.

All of LSC's degree and postgraduate programmes are taught in partnership with respected British universities further ensuring the quality and standards of the teaching and qualifications.

We look forward to welcoming you to our global community!
